Review Board optimal meeting practices and foundational parliamentary procedure. Understand the bylaw, policy, and procedure defining methods and key responsibilities of Boards, Board Officers, Executive Staff and Volunteers. Brush up on the fundamentals of finance, budget, reporting, filings and ensuring healthy reserve strategies are in place. Let's GO!

High Performing Organizations

Healthy organizations grow! In CTSOs it is a shared partnership between the Board, the Executive Director, and the Charter Holder to create the conditions for growth and success. Understand the cornerstone aspects of CTSO strategy and the importance that Organizational Clarity, Values, and Culture have as CTSOs scale, grow, and reach more students and schools than ever. Learn a simple assessment system for identifying where to concentrate Staff and Board time and the models to overcome barriers, fill gaps, and create lasting innovation.

Policy, Procedures, and Vulnerabilities

Dive into the key practices of Boards--creating policies aligned with strategy. In this age of increasing media, legal, cultural and equity pressures, it's important for Boards to not only craft new policies but review existing policies to ensure they are current and reflective of strategy and organizational aims. Learn key vulnerabilities CTSOs and nonprofits have and ways to address and mitigate exposure. We'll visit on foundational policies all CTSOs should have in place, address recent changes boards should examine, grow understanding of various insurance products and what they cover (and do not cover) and look at various risks and vulnerabilities to inspect. The organizations and leaders who know the rules--- rule!
